Preface

When people ask me what I am, the only honest answer I can give is "I'm American". My Pearson ancestors were English, German, Welsh, Irish, Dutch, French, and who knows what else. We are truly an American family. Most of our ancestors have been here since the 1600s.

The following compilation contains a brief 200+ year history of the Pearson family. This is a collection of data obtained from correspondence, old family records, bibles, military records, census records, newspapers, funeral programs, and several other sources. I would like to acknowledge the generous help given to me by Elizabeth Dalton, Larry Easterday, the late Jerry Pearson, Harvey Pearson, Denise Philips, and many others.

Since I never knew most of the people contained in this history, I can only speculate what life must have been like for them. The more I learn about them, the more interested I become.

The fact that this is printed does not mean that the research is over. I consider this to be a lifelong endeavor. There will probably never be enough time to find all of the information that I'd like to find and I'm sure that I will never feel like I am done. You will always be able to find my latest research/speculations on my web site, the address of which is listed below.

At the time of this writing, my great-great-grandparents, Riley Cephas and Rumina Elizabeth Pearson, have over 550 descendants, spanning five generations. Their offspring are spread from Washington to Florida, New Jersey to California and many states in between. There are even a few living over seas, in Europe and Africa.

This information is all on computer. I would be happy to share information with anyone that is interested. As of this writing there are over 4,800 people in my genealogy database.

As with any research, there are bound to be unintentional errors or omissions, due to illegible older documentation, typing errors, or just plain old mistakes. If you find any errors or have any additional information to add to this family history, please contact me.

Introduction

The focus of this family history is Riley Cephas and Rumina Elizabeth (Guss) Pearson. It covers eight generations of the Pearson family and ten generations of the Guss Family.

Riley and Rumina met in Crawford County, Kansas. They were married at Rumina's parent's house January 17, 1869 in Girard. Both of their families had settled in Crawford County, Kansas in the 1850s and 1860s respectively. The Pearson's from Iowa and the Guss' from Illinois.

Riley and Rumina remained in Crawford County, Kansas for forty years after they were married. All eleven of their children were born there. Eight of their children survived to adulthood.

Fannie, Ancel, John, Robert, Mary, George, Earl, and Eldia, about 1894.

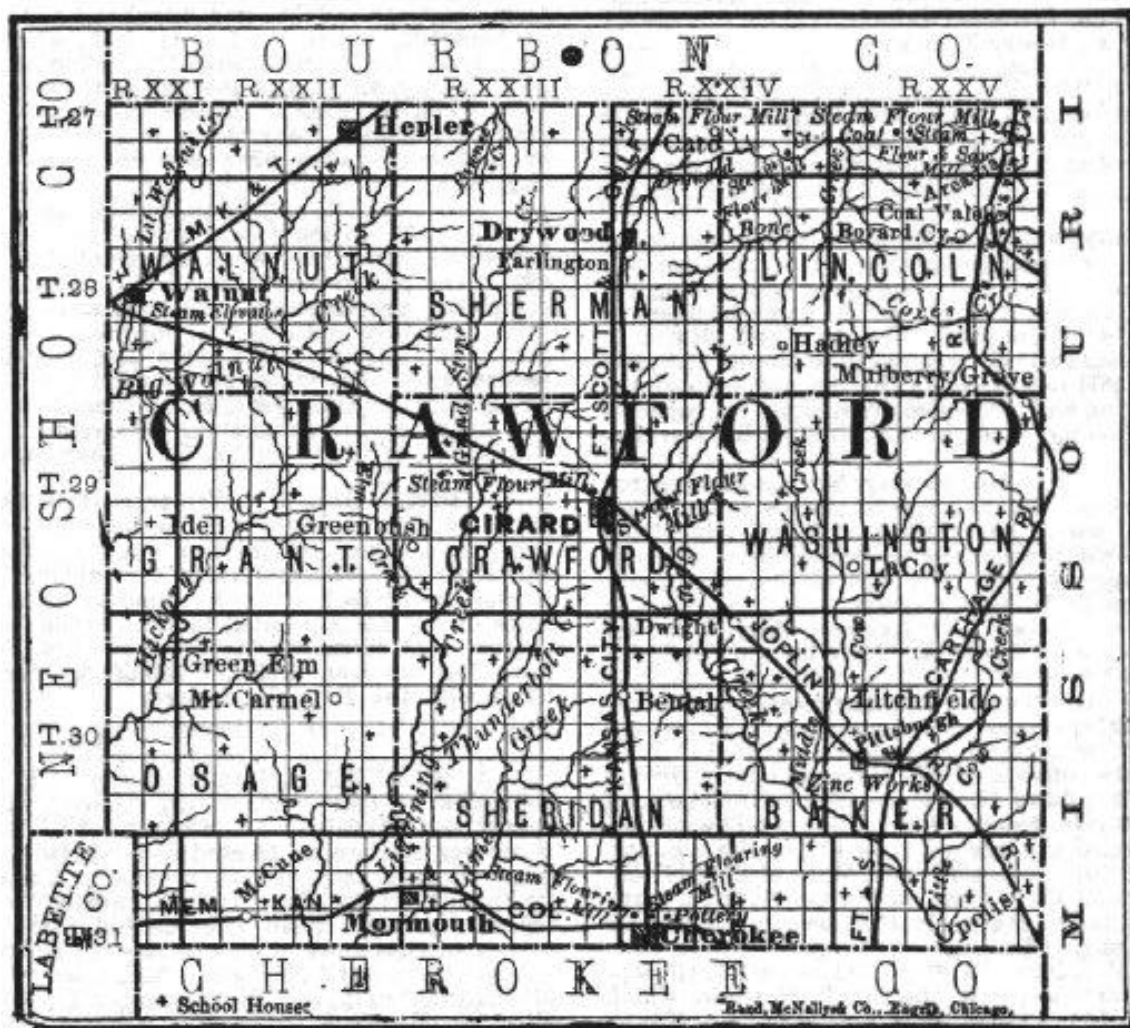

Starting in 1908, the Pearson men took several trips back and forth to Montana in search of a better life. There was free land to be had. By 1912, the entire Pearson clan had made the journey for good; Riley, Rumina, and all eight of their children. The children were grown, the youngest, Ancel, was 19 years old. The four older children; Mary, Fannie, John, and Eldia had families of their own. The extended Pearson family eventually filed a total of thirteen land patents in Montana, twelve in Stillwater County.

Crawford County

Crawford County is located in the southeast corner of Kansas, bordering Vernon County, Missouri. The Pearson's were very early settlers of Crawford County, Kansas.

From coal mines to railroads, socialism to labor unions, and prohibition to bootlegging, the history of Crawford County, Kansas is as colorful as the people who called it home. Often known as "The Little Balkans," Crawford County welcomed 31,000 immigrants from 52 different nationalities between 1880 and 1940.

From the time the first settlers came in the 1850's until prohibition ended, Crawford County was, for the most part, a sea of turmoil. Its history, like much of the West, is the story of pioneers, Indians, and railroads. However, what set the county apart from most is the story behind the rich abundance of "black rocks," as termed by Native Americans.

Crawford County, Kansas in 1895

Established with its current boundaries in 1867, Crawford County was once a part of the Louisiana Purchase. The county was named after a former governor of Kansas, Samuel J. Crawford. Crawford, Cherokee, and part of Bourbon counties encompassed over 60,000 acres in all, and were known as the Cherokee Neutral Lands. The name was given to this tract because the land belonged to the Cherokee Nation of Indians, as payment for their Georgia property that the U.S. Government took from them.

By 1860, many white families were scattered over the territory. The Cherokees sent their wisest chiefs to Washington to demand money, instead of new land. But President James Buchanan found the treasury empty and promised to vacate the lands. Accordingly, in the fall 1860, two companies of soldiers arrived at the south line of the Neutral Lands and drove the settlers north to Drywood Creek.

The Civil War brought a halt to this activity and the Cherokee Neutral Lands were abandoned, except for this strip along the north end. A treaty was signed; the terms of which called for the sale of the land at no less than one dollar per acre, and the money to be paid to the Cherokee Nation. All of the land was sold by the Secretary of the Interior to James F. Joy, Emigrant Company, who intended to sell the land to the settlers to pay for the building of a railroad. The settlers were very upset when they found out the land had been sold. They threatened to burn the railroad's building materials. The railroad called for soldiers to protect their property and remove the squatters.

Civil War

During the civil war, many of the Crawford County settlers suffered severely at the hands of the guerrillas and bushwhackers. Most of the outrages were committed by Livingston's men (Confederate soldiers).

According to the History of Crawford County, Kansas, published in 1905, "Old John Pearson had his house burned". John Warren Pearson was so mad that three of his son's signed up to fight. Riley was too young, but he went anyway. There is no official record of Riley having been in the civil war, but family history says he was. I did find records for two of his brothers, William and George; both joined the Union in July of 1863 at Ft. Scott, Kansas. The fact that Riley never signed up for his pension may explain why there is no record of him having served.

Railroad

From the History of Crawford County, Kansas, "Old Mr. [John] Pearson was an early settler and was one of five men in Lincoln TWP [Township] who was not a leaguer. He had two sons, William and Riley, who still live in Lincoln TWP, and two daughters, one of whom is Mrs. John Smart, the other Mrs. Riley Dalton of this township."

The Land Leaguers were a group of citizens opposed to the coming of the railroad.

An Article by John Spurling; Horizons Staff Writer:

On the night of 15 Jul 1871, the Girard Press, in Girard, Kansas was torched by arsonists. The arsonists fired revolvers into the air as they fled. With the opposition the Girard Press had to the Land Leaguers, there was little doubt the Land Leaguers were responsible.

Introduction

Earlier in the year, an editorial appeared in the pro-railroad Girard Press. Apparently in response to this editorial, the Land Leaguers told people to give the railroad no quarters. Do not allow them to pay taxes. Burn up their ties. Burn up their compasses and chains. Burn up their wagons and tents. Burn up their tax list.

There were five men in Crawford County who were not Land League members, and they were threatened with hanging "higher than Haman." (John Pearson being one of them.)

The Land Leaguers opposed the coming of the railroad and were chafed because of having to buy their land from the railroad man, James F. Joy. Joy was a land speculator from Detroit who bought up the 800,000 Cherokee Neutral Lands in SE Kansas for $1.00 per acre.

Settlers came by the hundreds to the Cato area in 1866-1867, and Joy was selling it to settlers for $1.25-5 per acre. The settlers had settled on land formerly owned by Indians, now by Joy, and he wanted them to pay. This angered them because they thought they had settled on free land.

Angry settlers formed Land Leagues that rode in the night like bushwhackers of the south, opposing the railroads and Joy's ownership of land. Countersigns and passwords were part of the semi-military groups that formed. Settlers were prepared to resist eviction from their land at any cost.

A company of US soldiers under the command of Maj. Upham entered Cato in 1870, charged with keeping the peace on the frontier.

Finally, Joy agreed to by-pass Cato and construct a railroad through Pawnee, Farlington, and Girard.

The Land Leaguers disbanded, although bitterness between descendants would remain. And many settlers left the county and moved west to new lands.

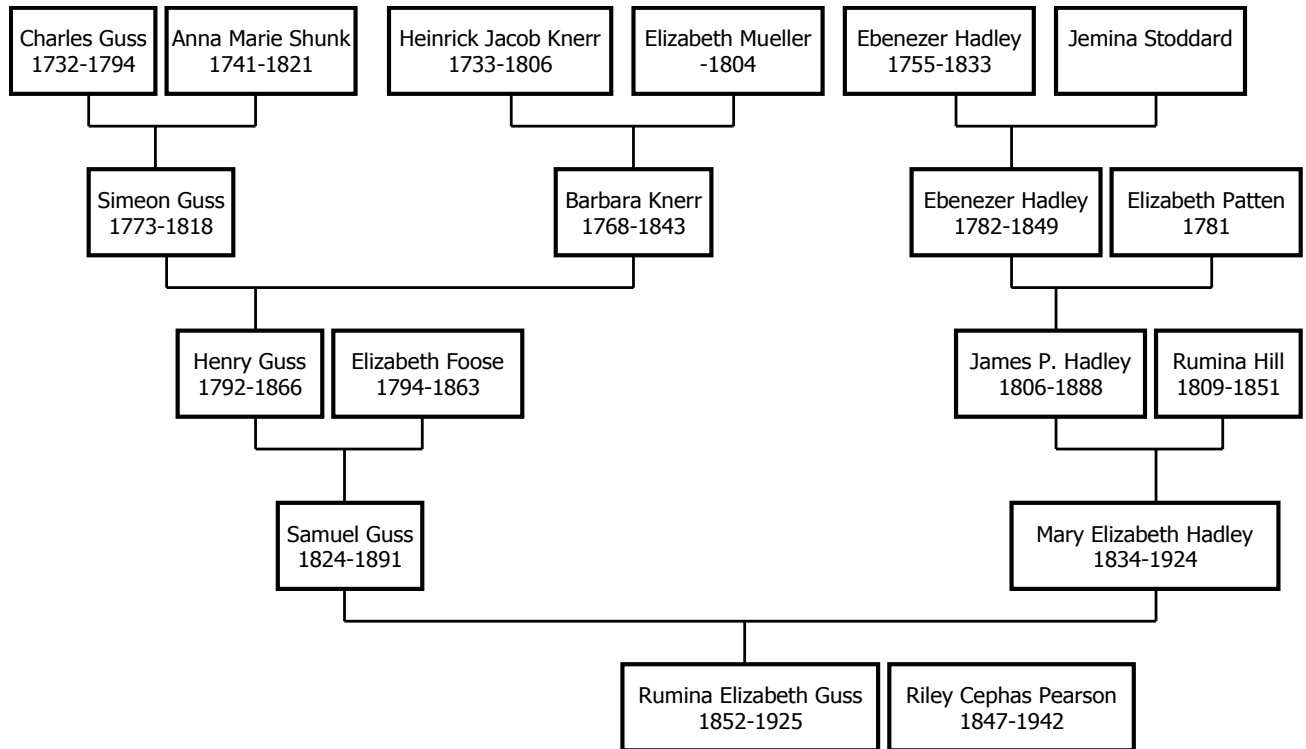

Coal

Success created history as the coal boom began. At its peak, 14,000 miners were digging seven million tons of coal annually in sixty-five deep mines. Strip mining also became abundant as massive steam shovels took gigantic bites out of the earth, uncovering seams of coal with a smaller work force. The "strip pits" seen throughout the area is continuing evidence of the days of strip mining.

There are numerous little communities throughout Crawford County. The miners lived close by the mines they worked, thus creating small camps all over the county. Imagine that at its peak, the county consisted of as many as 2,000 camps. The camps were made up of the miners' homes, where they and their families lived. Most camps had one school and one church. Some of the larger camps may have also had a theater, bank, electric lights and "paved" streets. A lot of the miners were paid in scrip, so they had to buy from the company stores. (Prices were usually higher, too.)

Today, a house or two may be all that stands of a camp. Cato, the earliest town in the county, is an example of a town that faded as fast as it flourished. Many of the town buildings are still standing today, but have been vacant for years.

Ancestors of Rumina Elizabeth Guss

Charles Guss

Charles Guss

The Guss family history begins with our immigrant ancestor Charles Guss, great-great grandfather of Rumina Elizabeth Guss.

Charles Guss was born 1732 in Baden, Germany. According to some sources, Charles was teaching sedition (a speech or teaching that cause discontent or rebellion against one's government) at the University of Baden. When he learned that he was to be arrested the next day, he and his mother left for America that night.

Charles immigrated on the ship "Christian" on September 13, 1749. He signed the register as Carl Goss. He settled first in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, and then moved to East Vincent, Chester County, Pennsylvania on the French Creek.

He received his Naturalization papers September 30, 1765 in Upper Hanover, Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania.

Charles married Anna Maria Shunk July 12, 1761 in Old Trappe Church, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, daughter of Simon Shunk and Anna Shimer, both born in Germany. Anna was born May 04, 1741 in East Vincent, Chester County, Pennsylvania. She was the aunt to Francis R. Shunk, Governor of Pennsylvania from 1845-48.

Charles Guss

Charles was a school teacher, scrivener, and farmer. Charles and Anna had seven children, all of which were born in East Vincent, Chester County, Pennsylvania.

The inventory of Charles' estate was made on August 30, 1794, by Conrad Corl and Peter Shunk. His will was probated on September 22, 1794 in Chester County, Pennsylvania. He was buried in Rhodes Mennonite Meeting House Cemetery, Springfield, Pennsylvania.

Guss family graves in Springfield, Pennsylvania

Anna was buried in April of 1821 in the Rhodes Mennonite Meeting House Cemetery, Springfield, Pennsylvania. Her will was probated on May 9, 1821 in Chester County, Pennsylvania. The graves of her and her husband are marked with marble tombstones.

Simeon Guss

Simeon Guss, great-grandfather of Rumina Elizabeth Guss, was born February 15, 1773 in East Vincent, Chester County, Pennsylvania, sixth of seven children of Charles and Anna Maria (Shunk) Guss.

Simeon lived at his parent's house until he was 31, and then moved to Perry County, near Loysville in 1804 and to Milford, Juniata County in 1815. He took his son Abraham to Milford for one year to try out the business prospects before moving the whole family. He was a shoemaker.

In 1813, he executed a deed transferring land to two of his sons and in it he is described as a soldier in the United States Army. But another source says he asked to enlist but was rejected because of his age and health. He is believed to have served as a soldier in the war of 1812.

Simeon married Barbara Knerr in 1791 in Chester County, Pennsylvania. Barbara was born May 10, 1768 in East Vincent, Chester County, Pennsylvania, fifth of nine children of Heinrich Jacob Knerr and Elizabeth Mueller, both of German descent.

Simeon and Barbara had ten children, all born in Pennsylvania.

Simeon died April 20, 1818 in Milford, Juniata County, Pennsylvania. Barbara died May 26, 1843 in Mifflintown, Juniata County, Pennsylvania. Simeon and Barbara are buried at St. Mary's Messiah Lutheran Church, Mifflintown, Juniata County, Pennsylvania.

Henry Guss

Henry Guss

Henry Guss, grandfather of Rumina Elizabeth Guss, was born June 16, 1792 in Chester County, Pennsylvania, first of ten children of Simeon and Barbara (Knerr) Guss.

Henry married Elizabeth Foose in 1814 in Perry County, Pennsylvania. Elizabeth Foose was born July 28, 1794.

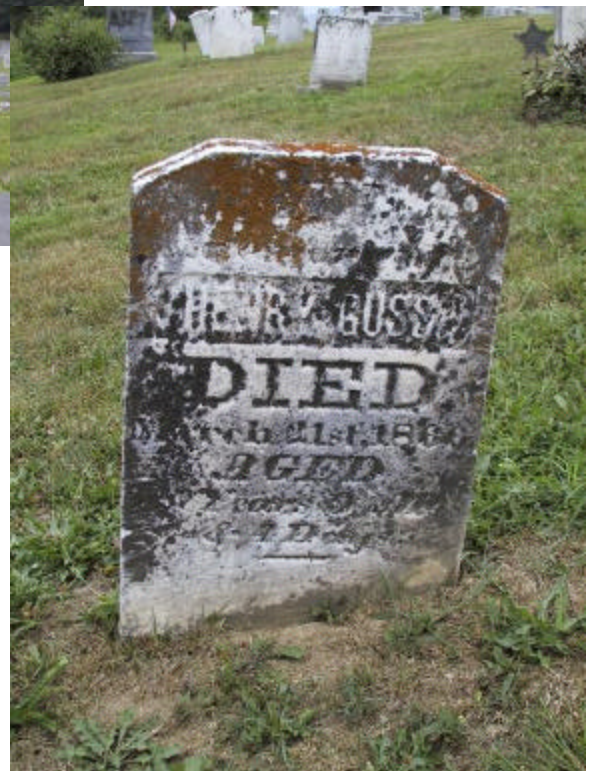

Henry and Elizabeth had twelve children, all of which were born in Perry County, Pennsylvania.

Henry was a shoemaker and farmer. Henry and Elizabeth moved to Juniata County, Pennsylvania in 1842 and joined the Methodist church.

Henry died March 21, 1866 in Licking Creek Valley, Juniata County, Pennsylvania. Elizabeth died December 28, 1863 in Milford, Juniata County, Pennsylvania. Henry and Elizabeth are buried at St. Stephen's Lutheran Church, Licking Creek, Pennsylvania.

Samuel Guss

Samuel Guss, father of Rumina Elizabeth Guss, was born April 15, 1824 in Perry County, Pennsylvania, sixth of twelve children of Henry and Elizabeth (Foose) Guss.

Samuel migrated to Illinois with his younger brother William. They went first to Peoria, Illinois in 1847, then to LaSalle County, Illinois in 1848.

Samuel married Mary Elizabeth Hadley on August 22, 1850 in Ottawa, LaSalle County, Illinois. Mary Elizabeth Hadley was born January 25, 1834 in Clermont County, Ohio, daughter of James P. and Rumina (Hill) Hadley.

The 1850 census for LaSalle County, Illinois shows Samuel Guss, farmer, age 26, born in Pennsylvania and Mary Hadley, age 16, born in Ohio as both living with Joseph Ebersol and family, also of Pennsylvania. This census was taken one month after Samuel and Mary were married. Ten years later, the 1860 census for Livingston County, Illinois shows Samuel, age 36, farmer, with his wife and four children as living with a Daniel Hite.

Samuel served as a private in the Civil War with Company D, 52nd Infantry Regiment, Illinois Volunteers, having enlisted September 10, 1861 at Sunbury, Illinois. He was discharged at Danville, Mississippi on May 27, 1862 by special field order of General Halleck. The nature and cause of his disability were described in his 1867 sworn statement in support of his claim for Invalid Pension, which he filed in Ft. Scott, Kansas.

Samuel and Mary had nine children, the first six of which were born in Illinois. The younger children were born in Crawford County, Kansas.

Samuel and Mary Elizabeth (Hadley) Guss

Samuel and Mary moved to Crawford County in the mid-1860s.

Samuel and Mary later moved to Iowa, where Samuel's brother William had gone on to settle. Samuel died August 26, 1891 in Irwin, Shelby County, Iowa. He is buried at Oak Hill Cemetery, Irwin, Shelby County, IA. Mary died March 31, 1924 in Burbank, Los Angeles County, CA. She is buried at Grandview Cemetery, Glendale, Los Angeles County, CA.

Ancestors of Riley Cephas Pearson

George W. Pearson

Our earliest known Pearson ancestor is George W. Pearson, grandfather of Riley Cephas Pearson. Many people have been researching George Pearson for many years, but no one has been able to uncover who his parents were. This is our "brick wall", in genealogical speak. There are many theories, but no proof. It's my hope that someday I will be able to say with certainty who his parents were, but for now this is where our history begins. It has been suggested that George's middle name may have been "Washington". It is most likely that George's family is from England and had been in America for several generations.

George W. Pearson was born about 1785 in Virginia. Some sources point to Prince William County as the place of his birth, which has not yet been confirmed. He married Elizabeth Warren in Virginia. Elizabeth "Betsy" Warren was born April 25, 1784 in Dudley, Worcester County, Massachusetts, daughter of John and Katherine (Cooper) Warren. The Warren family is well researched. They are of English descent and have been in America since the mid 1600s.

George and Betsy had eleven children. They moved to Athens County, Ohio with their family about 1817. The first of their five children were born in Virginia, the rest in Ohio. George and his oldest son, Branson, had farms that were side by side in Athens County, Ohio. It is almost certain that they lived near a little town named Frost, where they did their trading. It is located on the banks of the Hocking River.

George and Betsy lived in Ohio until approximately 1849. It would appear that they moved to Iowa at a later date than most of their grown children. It has been suggested that they married off all of their daughters before they moved. Their youngest daughter was married in Athens, Ohio in August of 1849. The 1850 Lee County, Iowa census shows George Pearson age 64, born in Virginia and Betsy Pearson age 65, born in Virginia. The 1856 Lee County, Iowa census lists George and Elizabeth Pearson living in Iowa for six years.

George and Betsy stayed in Iowa until about 1857, at which time they were quite elderly and moved to Putnam County, Missouri, where their eldest son Branson lived. The 1860 Putnam County, Missouri census shows George Pearson, age 74, farmer, born in Virginia and Elizabeth Pearson, age 75, born in Virginia. George and Betsy are almost certainly buried somewhere in Putnam County, Missouri.

John Warren Pearson

John Warren Pearson, father of Riley Cephas Pearson, was born December 01, 1811 in Prince William County, Virginia, fourth of eleven children, and second son, of George W. and Elizabeth (Warren) Pearson. John moved with his family to Ohio at the age of six.

John married Jane Paulk October 17, 1833 in Athens, Ohio; Horace Parsons, Minister of the Gospel officiated (circuit preacher). Jane Paulk was born September 05, 1817 in Athens County, Ohio, the third of seven children of Cephas Paulk and Jane McGuire. Cephas Paulk was first married to Nancy McGuire, older sister of Jane McGuire, and had two sons from that marriage. Cephas married Jane after Nancy's death. The McGuire family is of Irish descent and has been in America since the 1600s as well. The Paulk family is of Welsh descent, originally spelled "Polk", and has been in America since the 1600s.

If you recall from the Introduction, John Pearson's house was burned during the civil war by bushwhackers. Jane's father, Cephas Paulk, was living with them at the time. The Paulk family bible, with over 300 years of family history, was lost in that fire.

The Paulk's and Pearson's were inter-related in several ways. If you remember, John Warren Pearson's older brother was Branson Bell Pearson. Jane Paulk's younger brother, William Cephas Paulk, married Branson's daughter Elizabeth Pearson. Jane's younger sister, Hannah Paulk, married Branson's son John Pearson. In other words, Jane's brother married her niece and her sister married her nephew. There were several down line marriages as well.

John and Jane had thirteen children, the first six were born in Ohio, four were born in Iowa, and the last three were born in Kansas. They lived in Ohio until 1844 and in Iowa until 1857, before settling in Kansas.

On January 1, 1870, John W. Pierson (Pearson) was granted a land patent on 160.8 acres of "original entry" land in Crawford County, Kansas (NE fr. 1/4 of Section 2, TWP 28 S, Range 24 E).

According to the History of Crawford County, Kansas, all who received land patents had to prove they built a cabin and raised a crop by the summer of 1866, when the Cherokee Indians sold the Cherokee Neutral Lands, of which Crawford County was a part, back to the federal government. Since few of these early settlers had purchased land from the Cherokee Indians, most of the settlers were living there illegally while the Indians still owned the land. These land patents are recorded at the Register of Deeds Office at Girard, Kansas. On this same date, John's son, William N. Pierson, was granted a land patent for another 160 acres in the same section.

Riley Cephas and Rumina Elizabeth Pearson

Riley Cephas Pearson, or "RC" as he was sometimes called, was born January 3, 1847 in Croton, Lee County, Iowa, the seventh of twelve children of John Warren and Jane (Paulk) Pearson. Having come from Athens County, Ohio, the Pearson's had been in Iowa for about three years at the time of Riley's birth. The 1856 State Census of Lee County, Iowa lists John and Jane Pearson living in Iowa for twelve years.

In 1857, when Riley was ten years old, his family continued west and settled in Crawford County, Kansas. Making the trip from Iowa to Kansas with the Pearson's were the Dalton and Hatch families. They chose homesteads near each other. Many descendants of the three families remain in the area today. Riley's older sister, Charlotte Tempel Pearson, married Riley Dalton. Riley Dalton appears to be the first to bear the name "Riley"; he was 23 years old when Riley Pearson was born. The Dalton family has a family reunion in Girard, Kansas every summer.

Rumina Elizabeth Guss, or "Mina", was born April 30, 1852 in Livingston County, Illinois, the first of nine children of Samuel and Mary Elizabeth (Hadley) Guss. Rumina was named after her grandmother Rumina (Hill) Hadley. Samuel Guss, having come from Pennsylvania, met and married Mary in Illinois, and had been in Illinois for only a few years at the time of Rumina's birth. When Rumina was about twelve years old her family moved to Crawford County, Kansas.

Riley and Rumina were married at Rumina's parent's house January 17, 1869 in Girard, Crawford County, Kansas, by William Hoggatt, a Baptist Minister. The 1870 census for Girard shows Riley and Rowena (Rumina) with four month old Mary as living with Riley's father John. The 1880 census shows Riley and Mina (Rumina) with children Mary, Fannie, John, and Charles living very near John. The 1900 census shows Riley and Mina with children George, Robt, Earl, and Ansie (Ancel). The 1900 census also shows Riley's son John Samuel and wife Laura, married 0 years, renting a farm a few miles away in Vernon County, MO.

Montana

Riley and Rumina worked the land of Crawford County for forty years, but times were tough in Kansas. Riley's son George Wesley went to Montana first about 1908. He returned to Kansas with glowing reports of free land in Montana and convinced everyone to move with him. After several trips to check things out, the entire extended Pearson family loaded their wagons, animals, and all of their worldly possessions on to a train bound for Montana. They unloaded everything at the train station in Ryegate, MT.

Robert, Rumina, Riley, Earl, and Ancel in Kansas, about 1909.

They had a more difficult time than anticipated finding land that was available and suitable for farming. Rather than homestead right away, most worked for area ranches. They moved around by wagon. Son John Samuel worked on a ranch in the Snowy Mountains near Moore, MT (west of Lewistown) for several years.

They eventually found what they were looking for in Stillwater County, near the towns of Busted and Rapelje. The extended Pearson families were issued a total of twelve land patents in Stillwater County between the years of 1914 and 1917.

Son George Wesley was issued 160 acres near Lewistown in 1912 and another 160 acres near Rapelje, under his wife's name in 1914. After eight or so years in Montana, George sold both homesteads and used the money to travel. They went to Oregon for a couple of years close to other family members. Then they were in Arizona, around Phoenix, working farms, then on to Arkansas for a visit before they moved on. However the depression caught them still in Arkansas where they stayed since their money had ran out. He later moved to Lamar, Colorado, because his two sons had moved there. That is where George lived until his death.

Earl Vinton Pearson in Montana, 1910

Riley's older sister, Charlotte Dalton, died October 5, 1915 in Cato, Crawford County, Kansas. In her obituary, written by her son William Harvey Dalton, Riley is referenced as living in Busteed, MT (west of Rapelje):

Funeral services of Grandma Dalton, as she was familiarly known were conducted at the Hatch Schoolhouse, Thurs, 2:30 pm. F B Raines, pastor of the Cato and Arcadia Baptist churches preached the sermon. Internment was made in McGonigle Cemetery.

Miss Charlotte T Pearson was born in Ohio, Jan 7, 1835, died Oct 5, 1915, age 80 yr., 8 mo., 20 da.

When 9 years old she moved with her parents to Iowa, where she married to Riley Dalton June 15, 1856.

They moved to the present home in 1857, which has been the home continually since, or 58 years. To this union, 10 children were born-- 6 sons and 4 daughters. Three children, together, with her husband, have passed on before. Her husband died Oct 23, 1893; their daughter Jessie, Sep 26, 1889; son Andrew, Jan 29, 1891. Also an infant daughter.

Seven children are left to mourn the loss of a dear mother: Mrs Phama Roseboom and S C, A L, P H, W H and B S Dalton, all of this community, and Mrs Almira Peters of Riffe Wash., and two brothers and two sisters: William Pearson and Mrs J T Smart of this community; Riley Pearson of Busteed Mont., and Mrs Elizabeth Young of Pittsburg, Kansas. Also 30 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren, together with a host of friends, are left to mourn the loss of a dear relative and true friend.

She has been a Christian for 63 years, a member of the Baptist Church. she was an example of Christian forbearance and patience, having been an invalid for many years. None knew her but to love her.

While for the last ten years she has been almost a helpless invalid, she always seemed to be resigned to the will of her Master, and we have good reason to believe that her present and future home is a place where disease and suffering are strangers, because, "There shall be no more curse, there,"

- Rev. 22:3

Influenza 1918

The influenza epidemic of 1918 was the deadliest epidemic that the United States has ever known. It infected 28% of all Americans. In the spring of 1918, as the nation mobilized for war, soldiers at Fort Riley, Kansas were diagnosed with the flu, a disease doctors knew little about. Before the year was out, America would be ravaged by a flu epidemic that killed an estimated 675,000 people, more than in all the wars of the 20th century combined, before disappearing as mysteriously as it began. The outbreak spread to Europe in the lungs of soldiers headed for World War I, eventually killing over 20 million people around the world. Of the U.S. soldiers who died in Europe, half of them fell to the influenza virus and not to the enemy.

John Samuel and Laura Ann (Ferree) Pearson.

The flu had a tragic effect on the Pearson family. Daughter Mary's infant grandson, Russell Dawson, born December 22, 1918 in Rapelje (son of Ethel Evans and Roy Dawson) was rendered an invalid; he was never able to talk and only learned to hobble around on his legs when he was a teenager.

Son John Samuel and wife Laura Ann (Ferree) both perished on the same day; December 1, 1918. Only three years after securing their homestead. They left behind five children:

- Mabel, the oldest at eighteen years old, was already married, to Myron "Bug" Danforth.
- Riley (my grandfather), was sixteen years old and essentially on his own.
- Elmer was nine years old. He went to live with family friends, nobody remembers their name. This family decided they couldn't make it in Montana and headed back east. Elmer went with them. The wife died along the way, and the husband abandoned Elmer, somewhere in the Dakotas. Elmer was about twelve at the time. He eventually found his way back to Rapleje.
- Clinton was 2 years old and went to live with his sister Mabel; he grew up as her child.
- Dana was 4 days old, practically born on his mother's death bed. Dana went to live with older sister Mabel for a while, who at that time had a seven month old baby herself. Emma (Danforth) Cool, Mabel's sister-in-law, had gotten married and moved to Colorado. The marriage didn't work out, so at eighteen years old she came home and lived with her Father Asa Danforth. She and Asa took Dana in. Dana thought of Emma as his Mother from then on.

Final Years

The 1920 Census shows Riley and Rumina as living with Rumina's brother, William Ellsworth Guss, in Rapelje. Also living with them is Rumina and William's mother Mary Elizabeth (Hadley) Guss.

Rumina died March 11, 1925 at the age of 72. She is buried at Prairie Bell Cemetery in Rapelje. I'm not sure if it's coincidence or not, but the name of the one room school house near Girard, Kansas was Prairie Bell.

Riley lived in the bunk house on his youngest son Ancel's ranch during his final years. In 1937, he was in a horse accident and lost most of his sight. He rode his horse every day, up until within six months before his death at the age of 95. Riley died January 14, 1942. The Prairie Bell Cemetery had closed some years earlier. Because Riley wanted to be buried next to his wife, he dug his own grave next to her prior to his death. He was the last person to be buried in that cemetery, which was at a church. This church was no longer used. The church building was moved by Ancel onto his property and used as a barn.
